DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Wilcox et al. (USP 5,994,885).

Regarding claims 1-9: Wilcox et al. (FIG 2) disclose a power converter comprising: a current path that includes an inductor (L1) for receiving energy from a power supply (Vin), and an output capacitor (Cout) for providing an output voltage (Vout); an additional current path (path from Vin to ground via switch 116, resistors 36A and 36B) that can be opened and closed, said additional current path (path from Vin to ground via switch 116, resistors 36A and 36B) formed such that a current flowing through said additional current path (path from Vin to ground via switch 116, resistors 36A and 36B) reaches basically immediately a desired value, when said additional current path (path from Vin to ground via switch 116, resistors 36A and 36B) is opened; and a feedback circuit (Ifb, 38, 39) that opens said additional current path (path from Vin to ground via switch 116, resistors 36A and 36B), when said output voltage (Vout) across said output capacitor (Cout) reaches a predetermined maximum value, wherein the inductor provides the energy from the power supply (Vin) to a parallel arrangement of the output capacitor (Cout) and the additional current path (path from Vin to ground via switch 116, resistors 36A and 36B).

Regarding claim 10: Wilcox et al. disclose the apparatus at its normal operation performs the steps of the method recited in claim 10.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 1 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
